Valley Owned Luxury Custom Builder Cullum Homes Named National Custom Homebuilder of the Year

Recognition Acknowledges Cullum's 30 Year History of Innovative Building Techniques, Industry Leadership and Architectural Design in a 3-D Environment Among Other Notable Accolades

(SCOTTSDALE, Ariz.) — Scottsdale based luxury custom home builder Cullum Homes is proud to have just been named Custom Home Builder of the Year by the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) Custom Home Builders Committee.

The prestigious award comes from The National Association of Home Builders (NAHB). Currently members construct about 80% of the new homes built in the United States, both single-family and multifamily. A federation of more than 700 state and local associations, NAHB represents more than 140,000 members. About one-third are home builders and remodelers.

Rod Cullum, founder and CEO of Cullum Homes accepted the award alongside his wife and partner Kim Cullum, son Brad and daughter Lindsay, who are both principals at the firm, as well as several Cullum Homes team members. The ceremony took place during the National Association of Home Builders Show in Las Vegas last week.

“This is not only a huge honor for our team to be recognized by this incredible national governing organization of home builders but this is also another validation that we are continuing to exceed client expectations and utilize only the very latest and most innovative building and design techniques available,” said Rod Cullum.

Known for offering a comprehensive experience for their clients that extends from site selection through architectural design, construction, interior services and ongoing customer service, Cullum Homes is always on the cutting edge of the latest and most innovative building techniques, including designing homes in a 3-Dimensional environment that allows their homeowners to watch, often on their smart phone, as the project’s design progresses. For 30 years the locally owned builder has handpicked its team members to guide their clients through this creative and rewarding process.

Building between 10 to 15 multi-million-dollar homes a year, Cullum Homes also completes six to eight major renovations throughout the year. Unusual for most Design-Build companies, Cullum also offers ongoing services to maintain a home after move-in and, in many cases, renovates the home years down the road as the owners’ needs change.

“Cullum gives complete service for clients, providing top-level work at each stage of design, construction, and, if desired, ongoing maintenance and remodeling,” said Doreen “Dodie” Adams, Financial Officer at Integrity Builders Inc., and chair of the NAHB Custom Home Builders Committee. “Fine craftsmanship, up-to-date tools, a first-rate team and great client service mark them as leaders in their field.”

Currently Cullum Homes is building in several of Arizona’s finest neighborhoods, including The Village at Mountain Shadows, Silverleaf, Cholla Heights and The Village at Paradise Reserve.

They have just announced sales have begun at their newest project, Seven Desert Mountain, in Scottsdale’s incomparable Desert Mountain community. With 33 customizable single family homes to be built on the new No. 7 golf course as well as the Renegade course, Cullum’s homes in The Village at Seven Desert Mountain offer a remarkable opportunity for resort golf course living in north Scottsdale.

Many of Cullum’s homes include access to fitness, golf, spa, fine dining and other resort privileges and can be furnished, decorated and equipped with towels, dishes and other household items at request.

Furnished model home is open daily from 11:00 am to 5:00 pm.
